

NERC

The Natural Environment Research Council is the UK's main agency for funding and managing world-class research, training and knowledge exchange in the environmental sciences. It coordinates some of the world's most exciting research projects, tackling major issues such as climate change, environmental influences on human health, the genetic make-up of life on earth, and much more.

A screenshot of the NERC website homepage. The header includes the NERC logo, navigation links (Home, Funding, Research, Innovation, Skills, News, Events & Publications, About us), and a search bar. The main content area features a large banner for "50 years of ground-breaking science and impact" with a colorful "50" graphic. Below the banner are sections for "News" and "Planet Earth Online" with several article teasers. On the right side, there is a "Current funding opportunities" section with three featured articles: "Big Data for Resilience: realising the benefits for developing countries - Scoping exercise call for", "Pre-announcement of Increasing Resilience to Natural Hazards in Earthquake-prone regions in China call", and "Announcement of Opportunity: Atmospheric Pollution and Human Health in an Indian Megacity workshop".
