

RStudio Package Management

These pages describe how to use Packrat when initializing a project/importing a project. Due to the nature of the platform DataLabs is deployed, this is important in order for packages to be persisted properly across restarts/reboots or infrastructure changes.